2007 was a near-perfect vintage for Chardonnay with optimal weather throughout the growing season and most importantly, at harvest. Like its Sonoma sibling, we believe this bottling of Napa Valley Chardonnay is one of our best. It's a voluptuous wine busting the seams with ultra-ripe stone, pear and pineapple fruits, with hunger-arousing aromas of custard, crème brûlée and toasty vanilla oak. Spicy pear flavors are plush and round on the palate with a thread of acidity bringing lift and support to this sinfully rich and satisfying wine.

"A rich, opulent style, this is full-blown, with a bold yet elegant mix of ripe fig, pear, citrus and melon flavors, ending with hints of mineral and butterscotch. Drink now through 2012."
