

2008 Barcaglia Lane Chardonnay

Varietal	100% Chardonnay
Appellation	Russian River Valley, Sonoma
Alcohol	14.5%
Release Date	February 2010
Case Production	350 cases

Our Barcaglia Lane, like the Reserve Chardonnay, receives four additional months of barrel aging on the lees resulting in beautiful texture and detail. It is sourced from a single rolling vineyard in the Russian River Valley, part of the famed Dutton Ranch. Planted for us in 1998, the site consists of 3 sloping blocks planted to three different clones.

Record low yields in 2008 slashed production by 40%, resulting in excellent fruit quality. Fragrant, ripe orange and vanilla are naturally appealing with notes of cinnamon, oak spice and piecrust. An orchard of core citrus fruits forms the supple and satisfying palate with lively acidity and an exotic, lingering finish.

“Fresh, firm, intense and vibrant, with spicy green apple, honeydew melon and honeysuckle that are full-bodied and slow to unfold, gaining depth and richness on the finish. Drink now through 2014.”
