This is our second exciting vintage of Sonoma Chardonnay from Dutton Ranch vineyards in the Russian River appellation. French oak barrel fermented and aged sur lies, the 1999 Sonoma Chardonnay displays orange blossom, citrus and cinnamon spice aromas. Ripe melon and toasty oak flavors turn creamy in texture on the palate with a crisp, clean finish.

“This very solid effort displays the richness and fruity density that have come to be hallmarks of Lewis, and the wine is made even more appealing by its lush, somewhat viscous mouthfeel. Quite ripe and trimmed with palpable finishing heat, it more than compensates for its minor bite with loads of sweet apple qualities that hold and hold. Tasty now, it has the stuff in place for several years of growth.”
